

Second COVID-19 Case at TMMC

At 11:28am today, March 25, we were notified that a Toyota Motor Manufacturing Canada (TMMC, Cambridge – North Plant) employee had tested positive for COVID-19. This employee was one of those identified as having had close contact with the employee who tested positive on March 18.

The employee last worked during the day on March 18 and has been at home self-isolating since that time. Employees identified as having had close contact with that employee are being contacted directly by public health authorities.

The health and safety of our team members and communities is our top priority, and our thoughts are with our affected employees and their families.

Q. Can you give us an update on the status of the first affected employee?

A. We heard last week that the first TM is home recovering well.
